

Dough 4 Degrees' Workshops & Additional Opportunities

We strive to provide our clients with knowledge that will help them achieve their desired goals of graduating debt-free. The list below contains detailed, action-oriented workshop opportunities for students, parents, and the community. Request a workshop by submitting a booking request at www.dough4degrees.com/events.

- Scholarship Essay Writing Workshop: This two-hour intensive and interactive workshop is designed to teach students how to write winning scholarship essays. In this workshop, Danielle Jeffers, Founder of Dough 4 Degrees, breaks down the science she used to win over $200,000 in scholarships, allowing her to attend school debt free! This workshop is best for high school juniors and seniors who are preparing to earn scholarships. (Recommended Time: Summer break)
- The Family Plan: Students and their families are unaware of how demanding the scholarship process can be especially for those who are socio-economically disadvantaged. In this two-hour workshop, Danielle will teach middle and high school students and their families how to prepare to win the scholarships they need. (Recommended Time: Summer break)
- The Mindset Switch: Dough 4 Degrees believes there are two keys to winning scholarships: time and mindset. Students who don't have a mindset for success often settle for less, making for a more difficult adult life. Choose this one-hour workshop for your high school students to help change their mindset to allow them achieve to their dreams. (Recommended Time: August/September/January)
- The College Game Plan: "I want to go to college." That is a beautiful answer most students utter when asked: "What do you want to do after high school?" However, many students and their families procrastinate and wait until their senior year to begin their college selection process. In this one-hour workshop, we will give students and their families the strategy they need to succeed to select the best college for them. (Recommended Time: Summer Before 9th Grade)
- Complement Counselors: Guidance Counselors and College Prep Advisors are responsible for identifying the best ways to support their students. Our personalized game plan for the graduating class complements the work of Guidance Counselors and College Prep Advisors. This two-part product/service package is built to identify the strengths and improvement areas in your current approach. In the first part, we will meet with Counselors and College Prep Advisors for an hour to understand your practices. We will use our notes and ideas to craft a personalized approach to ensuring your students' success. The second part is the delivery of those agreed upon products and services.

(Recommended Time: Summer break)

- Keynotes/Commencements: If you need a keynote or commencement speaker for an upcoming occasion, Danielle would love to speak. She has a many success stories that inspires audiences to take control of their life and work to make tomorrow better than today. As necessary, Danielle will adjust her delivery to accommodate the purpose of the event and its overall objectives.

(Recommended Time: Year-Round)